Export Restriction Notice

The use, disposition, export and re-export of any property is subject to all applicable U.S. laws and regulations. These regulations include restrictions on the export of a particular good or technologies, such as (but not limited to) nuclear material, chemical and biological equipment, and computer systems, as well as total prohibitions of exports to certain countries or foreign nationals. The Following are provided for your reference by going to: <http://gsaauctions.gov/html/static/terms.htm> Click on the special notes tab and refer to the Export Restriction information.

Inspection of Property

Bidders agree to physically inspect the property upon which they bid or thereby waive the opportunity to conduct a physical inspection. In waiving their inspection rights, bidders bear the risk for any gross omissions regarding the functionality of items, failures to cite major missing parts and/or restrictions with regards to usage that would have been revealed by physical inspection. There are times when access to property may be limited due to property being located in a restricted area. GSA will do all that it can to ensure that photos and detailed descriptions are provided in these instances.

During an inspection at a government facility, actions taken by bidders are at their own risk. The U.S. Government will not be liable for any or all debts, judgments, costs, demands, suits, actions, or claims of any nature arising from or incident to their inspection at the Government facility, including any injuries that a bidder incurs due to their own actions or neglect on during their visit to a Government facility.

To access the bidding process, prospective bidders must have a UserID. Do not submit your email address, but rather the UserId you created during registration, e.g., Brownbear1234. Upon receiving this information, GSA will grant bidders access to GSAAuction 91QSCI-23-096 #501. Prospective bidders who submit the required information will receive an automated notice that bidding has been authorized. You are requested to email your signed "Acknowledgement" by 3:00pm PST on December 16, 2022 to Shirley.Tarkington@gsa.gov.
